

AI Speed-to-Lead & Follow-Up System

Scores every new inquiry, researches the company, and has a personal reply waiting in your Gmail drafts in about 30 seconds. Leads that go quiet get followed up automatically.

Built and tested by Jonathan Munteanu

~30 SEC

to a personalized reply

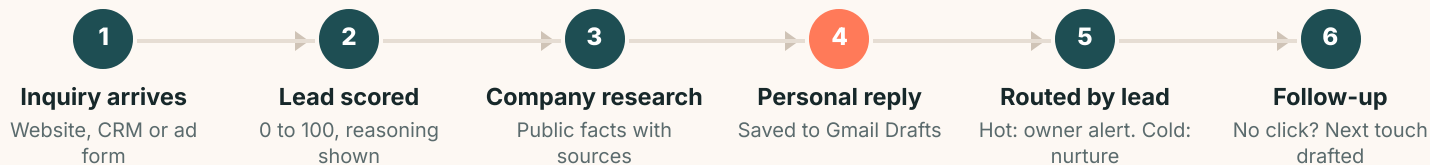

Form submitted → scored and researched → reply waiting in Gmail Drafts

VERIFIED IN 4 TEST RUNS

THE PROBLEM

Leads are easy to lose in the wait. Someone has to read the form, look up the company, decide if it's worth chasing and write back. When the team is busy, that sits, and the "just looking" leads rarely get a second touch.

HOW IT WORKS

VERIFIED IN TESTING

29-35 sec

from form submit to a personal reply in Gmail Drafts, over 4 runs

4 jobs

in one run: a score with reasoning, research, a reply and a route

2 routes

tested: owner alert for hot leads, follow-up draft after no click emails sent on their own. Gmail access is draft-only

0

GUARDRAILS

- Grounded replies. The email only uses facts from the form or cited research, and it leaves out research that isn't relevant.
- Draft-only access. It can create Gmail drafts but can't read your inbox or send.
- Scores you can check. Every score shows its reasoning, so nobody has to trust a black box.

WHAT THE SYSTEM DOES

- Scores every inquiry 0 to 100 on budget, authority, need and timeline, with its reasoning
- Researches the company from public sources, with links
- Writes a personal reply using only the form and cited research
- Hot leads get a book-a-call email and an owner alert
- Quiet leads get a follow-up drafted if they don't click

BUSINESS VALUE

ILLUSTRATIVE ROI

If reading, researching and answering an inquiry takes about 10 minutes by hand:

100 inquiries a month ≈ 17 hours

This system turns each one into a quick review, and the follow-ups happen whether anyone remembers or not.

Illustrative math, not a measured client result.
